

Drool Collection

Superchunk

I could feel my arms this morning
A little sore, that's just a warning
And I've been getting by with those
And it's foolishness I know
But after last night's gibberish
I should really sing you something

And it was just one of my favorite selections
From my drool collection
Yeah, it was just one of my favorite selections
From my drool collection

This morning I could feel my feet
I was surprised 'cause I had blisters
From running all night in my dreams
Running from some draft
I was relieved to find that I did not
Accidentally kill her standing back

One of my favorite selections
From my drool collection
Yeah, it was just one of my favorite selections
From my drool collection
