Somewhere

Surf Mesa

By the stroke of my hand
I'll never hold you again
Go save that love for someone
For something, for somewhere
And by the weight of my head
I'll always drown in regret
You save that love for someone
For something, for somewhere

Hey, are you tied up?
And tired up to break the ties
As of my love
Hey, are you tied up to cut the stress?

You say that I'm a mess whenever I try my best
We both know I'm not the best for you

By the stroke of my hand
I'll never hold you again
Go save that love for someone
For something, for somewhere
And by the weight of my head
I'll always drown in regret
You save that love for someone
For something, for somewhere (Somewhere)

Yeah, are you going anywhere? (With some wings I cut)
Yeah, you say I'm too old to play the game
We can make amends (Don't fuck up)
Oh, bloody veins filled with constant hatred

You say that I'm a mess whenever I try my best
We both know I'm not the best for you (Ooh, ooh)

And by the stroke of my hand
I'll never hold you again
Go save that love for someone
For something, for somewhere (Somewhere)
And by the weight of my head
I'll always drown in regret
You save that love for someone (Love)
For something, for somewhere (Somewhere)

And by the weight of my head
I'll always drown in regret
You save that love for someone
For something, for somewhere
