

You're Fine

Surface

I know, I know, I know
Shh
I know, I know

You're fine
But you're not my

I know you're used to having
All that you want and more
But now, now the time has come
For you to see that I want more
Than a pretty face
Though many chase you around
Just a pretty face
Not the kind to settle down

You're fine
But you're not my type
Don't want to fool around
Unless the feeling's right

You're fine
But you're not my type
Don't want to fool around
Unless the feeling's right

You're calling even more now
Asking me to give in to you
And all your selfish needs but
There's nothing I can do
Just a pretty face
Though many chase you around
Just a pretty face
Not the kind to settle down

You're fine
But you're not my type
Don't want to fool around
Unless the feeling's right

You're fine
But you're not my type
Don't want to fool around
Unless the feeling's right

Just because you're fine
You want to be mine

Just because you're fine
You want to be mine

Just because you're fine
You want to be mine

Just because you're fine
You want to be mine

You're fine
Don't want to fool around

You're fine
Don't want to fool around
