

Feels The Same

Red light, red light, are you ever gonna' change?
Day and night, day and night, everything just feels the same
Red light, red light, are you ever gonna' change?
Day and night, day and night, everything just feels the same

Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the same
Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the same
Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the same
Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the

Back and forth, from the same old circle
I'm still me in the same old circle
They say "Lay back, it won't hurt you"
But I got dreams and that's for certain
All these demons, they've been lurkin'
Act real nice from behind the curtain
It gets tough when I've been workin'
But the other side of me is always searchin'

Red light, red light, are you ever gonna' change?
Day and night, day and night, everything just feels the same
Red light, red light, are you ever gonna' change?
Day and night, day and night, everything just feels the same

Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the same
Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the same
Mmm-mmm, everything just feels the same

Everyday feels the same when I wait, 'cause I'm thinkin' on you
Could you stay for a change, or just wait til' the night comes through?
Everyday feels the same when I wait, 'cause I'm thinkin' on you
Could you lay for a change, or just wait til' the sky leaves blue?

Leavin' home, workin' late, same result, different day
I know that you wanna' break all the ties you contemplate
On the road, off the lane, same old job, different pay
Tell me what you wanna' say, you know, I want you to stay
Find your weight inside my hands
Try to make you understand
That life is more than a plan
And all the times that you were down and you were distant
And all the times you thought nobody would listen, I was by your side

Everyday feels the same when I wait, 'cause I'm thinkin' on you
Could you stay for a change, or just wait til' the night comes through?
Everyday feels the same when I wait, 'cause I'm thinkin' on you
Could you lay for a change, or just wait til' the sky leaves blue?
