

Take Some Time

Surfaces

A perfect afternoon, to feel this lovely
So I stay, where it's sunny
And I call you, to come and meet me
You said cool, give me fifteen
We grab some sand out by the beach
Enough to fill an hourglass for eternity
You take my hand then you ask me
Are you sure this life's your dream?

And I say
It may take some time to find what you're looking for
I swear I never wanted more
Yeah I say
It may take some time to find what you're looking for
So, baby, whatcha lookin' for?

Then we hit the road, cruisin' seaside
Highway one, arm was outside
Flap our wings, learnin' to fly
We take-off, to feel the pink skies
You find the map in my glove box
Just to see the lines we've crossed
You ask me where is the drop-off
Are you sure we're not just lost?

And I say
It may take some time to find what you're looking for
I swear I never wanted more
Yeah I say
It may take some time to find what you're looking for
So, baby, whatcha lookin' for?

Oh it might take some time to right your wrongs
The ink won't dry until we draw
So let's go out and find where we belong
And when you wonder if it's worth it all
To trip over the lines we saw
I'll be there to catch you when you fall

And I say
It may take some time to find what you're looking for
I swear I never wanted more
Yeah I say
It may take some time to find what you're looking for
So, baby, whatcha lookin' for?
