You said have your life back
I'm not sure I want it all
I've found things I'd taken for granted before

You said put that in the past
I'm not sure I want to
Can we keep the ways we came together, came together, came together?

Give us another try
With these open eyes
I don't want to go back to that old life
Show me the next slide

Without people hurting
I don't want that at all
But we stopped, had a chance to reset some of our faults

Give me another scene
I finally feel like me
Can't put my finger on what it means
