Survive Said The Prophet

Oh, three thousand miles
Couldn't stop marking every stone we stepped on
Just two hundred smiles
Between twenty four hours we kept up
Just one hundred times
Just one hundred times
Was enough just to do it over and over again

It's just a simple hello and goodbye 'cause we'll see you again
I could breathe every moment
If we can breathe every moment of this
Wouldn't feel so alive without you, oh my friends I could sing
I could breathe every moment
If we can breathe every moment of this

Oh, three thousand times
All the countless hours that we spent on
Changed two hundred smiles
Making every second worth a fight for
'Cause one hundred times
Just one hundred times
Was enough to do it over and over again

So a million times
We will fall into a thousand pieces
Glue them back for you
'Cause we were broken right before we had to Fake a smile for you
Trick my mind for you
'Cause it's enough just to do it over and over again

It's just a simple hello and goodbye 'cause we'll see you again
I could breathe every moment
If we can breathe every moment
Wouldn't feel so alive without you oh my friends I could sing
I could breathe every moment
If we can breathe every moment of this

It's nice to know that we're born merely human
But we were made to be fixed 'cause we're broken
This was a choice - it's a conscious decision
So step right in

It's nice to know that we're born merely human
But we were made to be fixed 'cause we're broken
This was a choice - it's a conscious decision
So step right in
Step right in

It's just a simple hello and goodbye 'cause we'll see you again
I could breathe every moment
If we can breathe every moment
Wouldn't feel so alive without you oh my friends I could sing
I could breathe every moment
If we can breathe every moment of this

It's just a simple hello

It's just a simple hello
