Survive Said The Prophet

You'll step then fall
Just to see if anybody would catch you at all
You'll run then stall
Well, who would follow you that can follow through
When you're on your own
Well, are you on your own

Have you ever felt the distance
From crowded rooms that could place you on your own
Have you ever felt alone and
Lonely even when you hear them singing
Whoa-oh-oh
Alone when everybody's singing
Whoa-oh-oh
Alone when everybody's singing

You'll step then fall
Just to see if anybody would catch you at all
You'll run then stall
Well, who would follow you that can follow through
When you're on your own
Well, are you on your own

Can you ever break this distance
In crowded rooms that have placed us on our own
Could you let yourself be broken
From hiding every melody we used to sing
Whoa-oh-oh
Every melody we used to sing
Whoa-oh-oh
Everybody's singing

We'll step then fall
'Cause we didn't have each other to hold in our arms
We'll run then stall
I couldn't follow you or just follow through
When we're on our own
Well, are we on our own

I couldn't even deny it
That everything just reminds me
Of what I could have and should have done for you
But here I am I am standing
Here I am, I am holding Holding onto something

We'll step then fall
Just to see if anybody would catch you at all

We'll step then fall
'Cause we didn't have each other to hold in our arms
We'll run then stall
I couldn't follow you or just follow through
Well, are we on our own

We'll step then fall

'Cause we didn't have each other to hold in our arms
We'll run then stall
I couldn't follow you or just follow through
