

If You Really Want To

Survive Said The Prophet

This is the life that you've insisted from the start
It's filled with colors, and sets fire to your heart
On and on, you'll persist to carry on Don't let the words elude the way and what you are They'll mend your thoughts, and preach what can and can't be done
Don't forget, we all breathe under the sun
(Open up your eyes)

We all breathe in different ways, each moment at a time
We all seek that one whole truth that sets us back in line
This is the chance to seek what you wanted
This is the chance to see what you wanted
Believe it's real, this life you feel
Keep movin' on 'cause
(This is all I got)

If you really want to (If you really want to)
Seek the heart that guides you
Take a chance with your life, and believe your calling tonight
This is the path to your future
If you really want to (If you really want to)
Seek the heart that guides you
Take a chance with your life, and believe your calling tonight
This is the path to your future

If they claim that you're wrong
Don't forget, you belong
The thought, the dream, and seek of what you need
So say that you can believe
That this is the path to your future

Forget the noise that will distract your train of thoughts
You're fighting for the time that can't and won't be bought
On and on, the time clicks under the clock
Don't you pretend that everything in life is grand
'Cause when it falls, it all comes down to how you stand
On and on, you persist to carry on

If you really want to (If you really want to)
Seek the heart that guides you
Take a chance with your life, and believe your calling tonight
This is the path to your future
If you really want to (If you really want to)
Seek the heart that guides you
Take a chance with your life, and believe your calling tonight
This is the path to your future

If they claim that you're wrong
Don't forget, you belong
The thoughts, the dream, and seek of what you need
So say that you can believe
That this is the path to your future

(Each step I take, all the mistakes)
(I make, we're made to turn the pages)
(This is the life that I'll decide)
(Tonight, this chance is all I got now)

This time it's clear to me
This chance is all I need
(This time will make you know it's best to know redemption)
This time it's clear to me
This chance is all I need
(This time will make you know it's best to know redemption)

If you really want to (If you really want to)
Seek the heart that guides you
Take a chance with your life, and believe your calling tonight
This is the path to your future

If you really want to
If you really want to
If you really want to
If you really want to
This is the path to your future
