

Last Dance Lullaby

Survive Said The Prophet

Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance
Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance

I could never find the right words to say
How I pictured it would play in a scenario of romance
16 only looking forward to the summer
Who'd have known I would find you at the rock show
Starting with hellos then exchanging numbers
Keeping conversations on the phone 'till I see you
Got my plan changed from the amount that I text you
Trying to be the one you wanna fall asleep next to

She said someday I will fly to California
I said one day I will tour around the world
She said come and find me wherever I go
So I started a band then I hit the road singing

Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance
Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance

4 more months until your graduation
Skipping class just 'cause that's how they do college
High school sucks but I have to acknowledge
Good times spent 'till the end of your practice
Time it just right so I could walk her to her place
Bought the last flight back home for your birthdays
Got a real job trying too hard to impress her
When I should have known
That was not what she's into

She said soon I will fly away to California
I said one day I will tour around the world
She said come and find me wherever I go
So I started a band and I hit the road singing

Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance
Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance
Please save me a last dance

Please save me a last dance
Please save me a last dance

10 years flew right out of the window
Sold out shows from Osaka to Tokyo
Traveling around world one show at a time

And I heard she's still absolutely one of a kind
She is done with the search stopped dating these jerks
Found the man she deserved that she goes with to church
She's moved on with her life got a job and a house
Paying taxes on time like a proper adult
She said this is life I live in California
While you're touring all around the world
Even if I never ever see her
At least you got a catchy song that goes

Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance
Good bye, it's good night
I'm waiting for this last chance
Please save me a last dance
Good bye, it's good night
It's good bye, it's good night
