Survive Said The Prophet

Mirror, mirror on the wall
Can't show me where I belong
It's been killing me, thrilling me
Mirror, mirror on the wall
Can't show me why I've been so misguided
In this life we seek for answers
How to question truly matters
Show me what I'll be become from here

Whoa, whoo
Mirror, mirror on the wall
Is this the life we pursue right now?
Mirror, mirror on the wall
This is the life, this is just exactly what I wanted
This is what I want right now
This is where I'm heading towards
This life we (Live for)

This is where we started
This is how I find my way from here
Must stay strong
I will carry on from here

This is how we'll make it
This is how we'll find our way from here
Must stay strong
We will carry on from here

Living in the present, I am in the worst place in my life
Taking chances, throwing glances
(This is not exactly what I wanted)
How or when did I decide that it's too late for my life
To turn around?

This is where we started
This is how we'll find our way from here

This is where we started
This is how we'll find our way from here
Must stay strong
I will carry on from here

This is where we started
This is how we'll find our way from here
Must stay strong
We will carry on from here

This is where we started
This is how we'll find our way from here
This is where we started

This is where we started
