

When I

Survive Said The Prophet

Dreaming like five year old
With a pocket full of dreams to seize
Walk on, doesn't matter where to
Let the sun set in

Who cares we'll go where the wind blows
With a pocket full of dreams to see
Time flies when you're walking too slow
When the sun sets in

Can you feel it?
(The lights, the signs, the time just right)
Can you take this?
(Alive in time your eyes in mine)
(Without the world around me)
The world around me
(Wasting away finding answers in time)
That will bring me back to you

Dreaming like you're just too old
For that pocket full of dreams to see
Wise up better do what you're told
Cause you're not eighteen

Seeing things from a different world
Underestimating dreams to seize
Talk big when nobody hears you
As the sun sets in

Can you feel it?
(The lights, the signs, the time just right)
Can you take this?
(Alive in time your eyes in mine)
(Without the world around me)
The world around me
(Wasting away finding answers in time)
That will bring me back to you

I regret it, I regret it
I regret it for the world is watching me
I regret it, I regret it
I regret it for the world is watching me

Dreaming like five year old
With a pocket full of dreams to seize
Walk on, doesn't matter where to
Let the sun set in

Who cares we'll go where the wind blows
With a pocket full of dreams to see
Time flies when you're walking too slow
When the sun sets in

Can you feel it?
(The lights, the signs, the time just right)
Can you take this?
(Alive in time your eyes in mine)

(Without the world around me)
The world around me
(Wasting away finding answers in time)
That will bring me back
Bring me back to you

I regret it, I regret it
I regret it for the world is watching me
I regret it, I regret it
I regret it for the world is watching me

Don't think back to better years
Where you thought you'd make it
When you thought you'd break through
Live fast, move on to a better life
Don't think back to better years
Where you thought you'd make it
When you thought you'd break through
Live fast, move on to a better life

Dreaming like five year old
With a pocket full of dreams to seize
Walk on, doesn't matter where to
Let the sun set in

Who cares we'll go where the wind blows
With a pocket full of dreams to see
Time flies when you're walking to slow
When the sun sets in

Can't regret it, can't regret it
Can't regret it for the world is watching me
Can't regret it, can't regret it
Can't regret it for the world is watching me
Can't regret it, can't regret it
Can't regret it for the world is watching me
Can't regret it, can't regret it
Can't regret it for the world is watching me
