

How Much Love

Survivor

How can I tell you to put it all in words
There is so much left to say
But the meaning slips away
And how can I show you to see it through my eyes
Don't deny that part of you
That's been dying for it too

How do I know if I give you too much
Will I scare you away
How do I know when to leave you alone
When to beg you to stay

I wanna know
Just how much love does it take to get to you
I stand here ready to break
Tell me, tell me, how much love does it take

Moment to moment I don't know where it stands
Will I end up like the rest
Well, it's anybody's guess
Can I persuade you so softly in a touch
If it's all a waste of time
Then I'm only wasting mine

How do I know if I give you too much
Will I scare you away
How do I know when to leave you alone
When to beg you to stay

I wanna know
Just how much love does it take to get to you
I stand here ready to break
Tell me, tell me, how much love does it take

How do I know when to leave you alone
When to beg you to stay

I wanna know
Just how much love does it take to get to you
I stand here ready to break
Tell me, tell me, how much love does it take
It's up to you
I stand here ready to break
Tell me, tell me, oh, tell me, tell me
How much love does it take
How much love does it take
How much love