

I saw the world fall into the sea
From the passenger side of a car
You were playin' me a brand new song
This is how I really feel
I wanna share my spotlight with you
Take me on the road to your life

And out of nowhere the angels did sing
You said this is how I really feel
I said I think we are going to see the king
And tell him love is real

I saw a mountain crumble down
While you said
It looks like a cloud from the other side
You looked me in my face
And said you better mean it
Next time you turn away

And then the fire came burnin' up inside of you
You said I don't think you really understand
I said oh yes I do 'cause I've been here the whole time too
And you took me by my hand
You said love is all that matters in the end
You said love is all that matters in the end
You said love is all that matters in the end

I saw you in a dream
I saw you in a dream
I saw you in a dream
I saw you in a dream
I saw you in a dream

Child is born
Mother is made
Sun is dawned everyday
When my time comes
I'm gonna hold you like I used to
Just like I used to...

I saw you in a dream
I saw you in a dream
I saw you in a dream
I saw you
