Suuns

When you're down
When you're down
Every single touch
Remove this broken crown

It wouldn't take too much for me to say I'm wishing
It wouldn't take too much for you to be forgiven

When you're stuck
When you're stuck
Every single touch
The prince is in the much

It wouldn't take too much for me to say I'm wishing
It wouldn't take too much for us to be forgiven

It's all because
All I can tell
It's such simple material
It falls apart
Lost in the dark
And when you find it, don't give it up

When it's done
When it's done
You and everyone
The king without a son

It wouldn't take too much for me to say I'm wishing
It wouldn't take too much for us to be forgiven
