

Going Home

Suzi Quatro

You crawled inside of my head
And then you crawled in my bed
I didn't think you would hurt me
And when I turn out the light
I know that something ain't right
Cuz every night you desert me, yes you do

How can you lay by my side
You always withdraw and hide
Don't you know how I'm feeling
Got a decision to make
Before my mind does a break
And so I stare at the ceiling

Going home, home alone
Going home, home alone
Cuz I'm free, I'm a rollin' stone
I'm going home where I belong

You ripped a hole in my heart
And then you ripped me apart
Until our love had no meaning
And now I've made up my mind
To leave this heartache behind
I'm on the way to the healing, oh yeah

You crawled inside of my head
And then you crawled in my bed
I didn't think you would hurt me
And when I turn out the light
I know that something ain't right
Cuz every night you desert me

Going home, home alone
Going home, home alone
Cuz I'm free, I'm a rollin' stone
I'm going home where I belong
