

It's a Perfect Day (for a Little Rain)

Suzy Bogguss

It's a perfect day for a little rain
The water's cryin' down my window pane
Just like a little girl, the thunder makes me feel afraid

The trees are dancing in the gypsy wind
Guess they don't know yet that I lost my best friend
I can't believe I'll never hold you in my arms, again

I know we said that this was right
But how'm I supposed to make it
Through another lonely night
When my heart just wants to hold on to you
And my heart just can't believe that this is true
Maybe I could convince my mind, but it's my heart
Yeah

It's only Saturday and I feel so alone
We let go yesterday on the telephone
I guess it's time I learn to make it on my own

I know we said that this was right
But how'm I supposed to make it
Through another lonely night
When my heart just wants to hold on to you
And my heart just can't believe that this is true
Maybe I could convince my mind, but it's my heart
Yeah

It's a perfect day for a little rain
I'm sure the sun will shine on another day
Yeah

It's a perfect day, for a little rain

It's a perfect day, for a little rain...
