

Love Is Stronger

Suzy Bogguss

I'm alive and well
Just in case you're wondering
When heavy weather thunders at your window pane
The last time I fell
I broke down to nothing
Come to find out something had remained

You know that I believe I should be good as gone
But still I stay just a little bit longer
The only reason why I am holding on
The hurt was strong, so strong
But love is stronger

For the longest time
I all but gave up
My mind was made up I had tried my last
But your hand in mine
What a sweet reminder
Why love puts blinders on the heartaches of the past

You know that I believe I should be good as gone
But still I stay just a little bit longer
The only reason why I am holding on
The hurt was strong, so strong
But love is stronger

Than our will to run
Finds the will to stay in everyone

You know that I believe I should be good as gone
But still I stay just a little bit longer
The only reason why I am holding on
The hurt was strong, so strong
But love is stronger
