When I listen to what you like
I follow you and I like it too

It's different from resembling each other
I keep trying to copy you

If I'm about to be in pain or lose you
If I lose you

I can't imagine me without you
You became my preference
There's nothing besides the reason that it's you

I only have that immature reason
All of the things I love about you
I wanna follow you anywhere

If I'm about to be in pain or lose you
If I lose you

I can't imagine me without you
You became my preference
There's nothing besides the reason that it's you

I only have that immature reason
All of the things I love about you
I wanna follow you anywhere

Stay by my side, just like now
So when I look back, your pretty face
Isn't just my sweet imagination

Me without you
You became my preference
There's nothing besides the reason that it's you

I only have that immature reason
All of the things I love about you
I wanna follow you anywhere
