

10 Silver Bullets

Swallow the Sun

Burn marks on my chest, so the arrows won't miss
Surrounded by the cupid of Lucifer
And she, who stands on his left side with her burning spears

Straight into the heart, my love
Straight into the heart

Ten silver bullets, but I won't shed a tear for you
Won't cry for mercy, none from you
They always find you in the shadows
For my heart is a lighthouse of a burning flame

Straight into the heart, my love
Straight into the heart

Would have followed you down to the depths of hell
And saved you from these flames
Built a bridge over this dark world that we have created

Blessed be the ones who do not feel
For you the heavens are open
Such is the nature of the heartless

And for us who tread in the dark, the road goes on forever
From sunrise to sunset and all through the night

The serpent's words, I remember well
And the venom she spat, unholy offering of fire and lust
Was a road straight to hell

Blessed be the ones who do not feel
For you the heavens are open
Such is the nature of the heartless

And for us who tread in the dark, the road goes on forever
From sunrise to sunset and all through the night

Ghosts and owls wrapped around my neck
She led me too far this time
There's no heaven to help us now, no repent

Woman is a creator, man is a destroyer, or so I thought
The judgement of our sins fell upon us
From the ivory garden of the Gods to the worms of the earth
To the worms of the earth

Blessed be the ones who do not feel
For you the heavens are open
Such is the nature of the heartless

And for us who tread in the dark, the road goes on forever
From sunrise to sunset and all through the night
