Swim Deep

Dark green lights in the emerald tonight, oh I'm coming home
There's boys in the back drinking whisky and craic, with no place to go

You wouldn't wanna leave here, you wouldn't wanna stay
There's bars full of fever and pain
But it's your home, that keeps your heart in the race

In the blue, where the sky is grey and the heaven's inside
We were kids only asking why

The sun never sets the same as those summer days
We were moving with no fear, and the hope of a fox on a motorway

You wouldn't wanna leave here, you wouldn't wanna stay
There's heart in the darkest place
And I've got friends that would die for my name

In the blue, where the sky is grey and the heaven's inside
We were kids only asking why

In the blue, where the sky is grey but the heaven's inside
We were kids only asking why

I'm alive, I'm alive
I'm alive, I'm alive

In the blue, where the sky is grey and the heaven's inside
We were kids only asking why

In the blue, where the sky is grey and the heaven's inside
We were kids only asking why
