

From My Window

Swing Out Sister

Strangers
There was nothing left between us
Changes
Neither one of us could see
Tell me
Why did we leave yesterday so far away

From my window I see the world pass me by What a waste of time
On a dead end street where the sun never shines
In my mind

This time
Nothing else could come between us
We'll find
More than we could ever know
Slowly
We'll let go of yesterday
Why don't you stay?

From my window I see the world pass me by
And the world looks fine
Now I've found a place where the sun always shines
All the time
In my mind
Now I've found the place in my mind where the sun will always shine when it's cold outside
Now we've found love
The sun will always shine in my mind

When it's cold outside
The sun will always will shine
In my mind, in my mind

We'll make the sun shine now that we've found love
