Hold tight, just keep on driving
Dark night, where's the horizon?
Will I ever see the light again?
Searching, trying to find You
Calling, can't seem to get through
Tell me, tell me, where do I begin?

Can You hear me?
I'm crying out to You
I really hope that You do
Are You alright with my question mark?
Can You see them
The broken, lost, and abused?
It doesn't seem like You do
Are You alright with my, with my question mark?

I see so much injustice
Hurting, dying, and hopeless
Will we ever see the end of this?

I know You never stopped talking, I must've stopped listening
But now that I'm looking, I'm paying attention
You said You won't leave us, so where are You now?

Can You hear me?
I'm crying out to You
I really hope that You do
Are You alright with my question mark?
Can You see them
The broken, lost, and abused?
It doesn't seem like You do
Are You alright with my, with my question mark?

With my question mark?
With my question mark?

I know You never stop talking, I must've stopped listening
But now that I'm looking, I'm paying attention
You said You won't leave us, so where are You now?

Can You hear me?
I'm crying out to You
I really hope that You do
Are You alright with my question mark?
Can You see them
The broken, lost, and abused?
It doesn't seem like You do
Are You alright with my, with my question mark?

Can You hear me?
I'm crying out to You
I really hope that You do
Are You alright with my question?
