

Took My Chances

Sword

Ooh, yeah

Sick and tired to desire
Emptiness has taken over
Quietly leaving me empty as can be
Time and time again
I wait for loneliness to dissipate
Silently making me lonely as can be

I took my chances, everything I had is gone
And it's all on me, it's so plain to see
I took my chances

Day and night I fight the feeling
Angriiness seems so appealing
Very quickly making me angry as can be
Black and blue, I lie alone
And I'm sinking like a stone
Leaving every part of me sunken as can be

I took my chances, everything I had is gone
And it's all on me, it's so plain to see
I took my chances

I have seldom used my wisdom and paid
I lost the kingdom and threw my freedom away
And forever, in the back of my mind
Guilt and regret will be easy to find

Time and time again
I wait for loneliness to dissipate
Silently making me lonely as can be
Black and blue, I lie alone
And I'm sinking like a stone
Leaving every part of me sunken as can be

I took my chances, everything I had is gone
And it's all on me, it's so plain to see
I took my chances

Oh, I took my chances
Oh, I took my chances
Yeah, I took my chances
Alright, alright