

The Good Middle Man

Sy Ari Da Kid

Sypooda

So what's crazy is every body talk about plug this and plug that, and

I bought this and I bought that, but

Who was in between them deals every time you had to purchase what you purchased?

The middleman (Check)

Plugged on the weed out in Cali, if you want it you get it

Sent to Atlanta, it was only two hundred for shipping

Four pounds per box, ooh, that's wonderful business

The only way you know my connect if you was one of my niggas

Don't talk business on the phone, we knew that someone was listening'

One day we'll build a grow house, and soon become independent

We move like we above the law, won't do it under the system

My homie tried these same moves, they threw him under the prison

But I'm smooth with it and I move humble, I'm different

No social media posts, them new school youngins be trippin'

Let's up the mission, I'll sell it to you for what I buy it for

But double the digit, that's double-dippin'

Plus some interest, and we all tryna eat, so what's the difference?

I'ma feed the streets until I peep somethin' suspicious

Fuck them snitches, like what's the ticket?

I pay niggas for they plug then clip 'em

Give 'em they cut then quit 'em

I'm tryna run a business, no time to waste

If I call you, I need somethin' instant

I make a sale up close and personal or from a distance

I got what you need, just need a couple minutes

Make a call, meet my peoples here, okay, come and get it

They try to disrespect the middleman, I say fuck them niggas

When Walmart sellin' chips, you buy 'em, right? Shut up, nigga

Let me ask you somethin', nigga

When the last time you bought Doritos from Doritos?

Oh, now you can't say nothin', nigga?

I thought so, I reinvent the dyin' hustler

Supply the ones for the consumers and the buyin' customers

Third-party talks, you gon' have to find a couple bucks

So you can't buy nothin' from him unless you buyin' some from us

The middle, the one who spent a lot for a little

And sold it to you for a little more, for triple

Good middleman
