

I Wish You Were Lonely (Extended Version)

Sydney Ross Mitchell

I've always known that
In my bones I can feel things
And I felt you, I felt you coming
Right from the start I knew
That the hardest part of it all
Would be when it ended
I knew I'd regret it
But I loved you anyway

After all that we did
All that happened
There's a lot I never showed
All the using
So confusing
There's one thing that I know

I don't wanna be in love anymore
I don't wanna be your girl
With you was flying too close to the sun
Just caught in a moment
Something wonderful

I don't wanna end up like before and
I don't wanna wonder it's not enough
Why do I always want just a little bit more?
And it's never enough for me
Never enough for me

I don't wanna see you with someone else
I don't wanna be reminded of what I couldn't be
She lives in a little blue house, yeah
So you don't have to sleep in your car anymore
A thousand miles away from me
And you never got lonely
You never got lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely

I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish that you called me
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
I wish you were lonely
