

I Know, You Know, I Know

Sylar

I know, you know, I've been waiting
Sleepless nights, no conversations
And I know you had a clue but faked it
The innocence in your eyes I hate it

My soul, so low
Need you gone, that's all that I know
My soul, so low
Need you gone, that's all that I know

When I'm holding back for an answer
Will you let me down easy?

When I'm holding back for an answer
Will you let me down easy?
So I leave you with one question
Won't you sing me, won't you sing me to sleep
Before you leave?

Sometimes I try to remember
The good old times we had together
I can feel us grow apart
We both know it's not enough

My soul, so low
Need you gone, that's all that I know
My soul, so low
Need you gone, that's all that I know

When I'm holding back for an answer
Will you let me down easy?
So I leave you with one question
Won't you sing me, won't you sing me to sleep
Before you leave?

I know, you know, it's been fading
I know, you know, I know
Even when you're in denial
I know, you know, I know

When I'm holding back for an answer
Will you let me down easy?

When I'm holding back for an answer
Will you let me down easy?
So I leave you with one question
Won't you sing me, won't you sing me to sleep
Before you leave?
