

Soul Addiction

Sylar

Yeah

It's 3 AM and -
I find myself sweating from all the same dreaming again, yeah
The very same feeling I catch myself cold in the end, you know
I find myself holding on to anything that resembles your hand
Together, together we were so strong

I'm so weak!
I'm so weak!

Is there something I've been missing?
Tell me what's the difference if you're gone, gone
Cause you know that I'm addicted
Know that I'm addicted to your soul, soul
Only time will do us right
I'm praying I'm wrong

Now I know I was the one who broke the promises
Pushing you out because I wouldn't take the blame
I was acting up because I knew it was the end
Full of regret, my heart is calling your name
Everything in life ain't always what it seems
Rewind, erase, let's go and do it again
This is what it was so it just had to be
I can't see straight, that's why I'm numbing the pain

Living just for fun
Wasn't what I meant
Drink till I forget

Is there something I've been missing?
Tell me what's the difference if you're gone, gone
Cause you know that I'm addicted
Know that I'm addicted to your soul, soul
Only time will do us right
I'm praying I'm wrong

I had you and I let you slip
I had you and I let you slip away
Slip away, slip away, slip away
Slip away, Slip away, slip away

Living just for fun
Wasn't what I meant
Drink till I forget

Is there something I've been missing?
Tell me what's the difference if you're gone, gone
Cause you know that I'm addicted
Know that I'm addicted to your soul, soul
Only time will do us right
I pray that I'm wrong
