

Different Strokes

Syleena Johnson

Got one record sampled more
Than any record ever been sampled in the history of the world
It's called Different Strokes

Yeah
It's the oldest story ever told
Same shit, different show
Mmh, yeah
It's time to tell the truth
Here we go

Listen, the truth is
It's just my luck that I pulled your car
I let you run amok in my life this far
And I have not accepted who you really are Ooh, the truth is
I have been subjected to playing a part
That's got me going in circles
Wishing on a star
And you been lying from the start
You mishandled my heart

Oh, 'cause any way the wind blows (yeah)
It's cool with me (uh-huh)
You the same sheep in wolf's clothes, uh
And it's plain to see

It's just different strokes (yeah)
For different folks (yeah)
It's just different strokes (see I could never do you like you do me)
For different folks (but that's just you and I'm just me)
'Cause some people were made for love
Some people will take [?]
It's different strokes
In a world so cold you can never know (yeah)

Truth is
To you I thought I could give my heart
Give me my keys back to my house
And you can take the keys back to your car

'Cause any way the wind blows (yeah)
It's cool with me (oh)
You the same sheep in wolf's clothes, yeah
And it's plain to see

'Cause it's just different strokes (yeah)
For different folks
It's just different strokes
For different folks (yeah, oh)
'Cause some people were made for love
Some people will take [?]
It's just different strokes
In a world so cold you can never know

Trigger trauma from your past, from your choices
You can't seem to get past, I won't fight for you

No, 'cause I can't compete
With the noise in your head that got your beat
If I say go left you gon' go right
I won't stop you, no I refuse to fight
And this ain't new to me (no), it's the same with you (oh)
And it's okay to go our separate ways

'Cause it's just different strokes (yeah)
For different folks
You you and I'm me
We just different (uh, uh, uh, uh)
