

One Way

Sylvan LaCue

(You want things your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way

Uh, no compromise, no compromise
Hold firm to the scent you saw
Less room for the somber lies
Make way for the stronger pride
My way 'till I fall and die
No need to explain myself, that man no longer lies
This man no longer strives, to only just survive
'Till the world is in my hands, you can find me in the sky
Got a plan that'll show my all, gotta stick to the protocol
Still governed by the up most high, so I never really knew no fall
No fear, no shame, too stubborn in the walk I walk
Always outdid the do, so it's cool when I talk that talk
Huh, can't tell 'em shit, so I heard 'em say
They're probably right, I prefer this way
Myself is my best insult until there's no denying
But even self can become a smidgen defying
Yelling...

Tell me what am I to say
Tell me what am I to say
Tell me what am I to say
If you just want it all one way
One way, your way (hey)
And you just want it all one way
One way, your way (hey)
And you just want it all one way
One way, your way (hey)
And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way

Uh, no compromise, no compromise
She feels his brother's pain
Though he hides behind his pride
Want to tell him how to lighten load
Give advice to ease his mind
And every time she think she's close, all she does is waste her time
"Little man just slow your role, ambitions way too far
You don't wanna be the one left hanging, tryna reach up to the stars"
She said, no sir you don't even understand my grind
Your hate don't cost a thing, pay me no mind
That clothes line gon' open up to a clothesline
Words fall on deaf ears
Handkerchief where she left tears
Never understood that arrogance
Came from a place his mental dwells
Been through hell, took it the wrong way, defensive tales
She worries every moment, doesn't wanna see him lose his mind
She knows he's looking for something that he will never find

Tell me what am I to say
Tell me what am I to say
Tell me what am I to say
If you just want it all one way
One way, your way (hey)
And you just want it all one way
One way, your way (hey)
And you just want it all one way
One way, your way (hey)
And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way
(You want, you want it your way) And you just want it all one way

You want, you want, you want
You want, you want, you want
You want, you want, you want
You want, you want, you want
You want, you want, you want
