

Rise Again

Sylver

I will rise again
My friend and
I will smile again
In the end

The days were long where I come from
And darkness filled the sky
The nights were cold, no one to hold
'Till the day I realized

There will be no tomorrow
If you're stuck on yesterday
Happiness is about to come
My way

I will rise again
My friend and
I will smile again
In the end

Every road will lead me back to you
Every step I take brings me close to something new

I will rise again
My friend and
I will smile again
In the end

Every road will lead me back to you
Every step I take brings me close to something new

Looking for
Heaven's door
So many things I've missed
Holding on
To someone
That didn't really exist

There will be no tomorrow
If you're stuck on yesterday
Happiness is about to come
Your way

I will rise again
My friend and
I will smile again
In the end

Every road will lead me back to you
Every step I take brings me close to something new

Is this the love you wanna live
'Cause what you get is what you give

I will rise again
My friend and
I will smile again

In the end

Every road will lead me back to you

Every step I take brings me close to something new

I will rise again
