

Jason

Sylvia

Let me tell you the reasons I love you
You're a man and your spirit is free
With no boundaries you soar like the eagle
You're strong but you're tender with me

Jason, Jason, so gentle
Jason, Jason, so wild
You were meant to be
The one for me
The father of my child

You're a dreamer whose hands have been calloused
No complaints though your work has been hard
People say there's a man who's honest
You live by your word and your heart

Jason, Jason, so gentle
Jason, Jason, so wild
You were meant to be
The one for me
The father of my child

We'll have a good life together
We'll share the sun and the rain
Forever, [?] forever
You know I'll love you always

Jason, Jason, so gentle
Jason, Jason, so wild
You were meant to be
The one for me
The father of my child

You were meant to be
The one for me
The father of my child
