

Symmetry

SYML

Come now child, the day is long
Hide not yourself from me
Angels sing the final song
Silence will turn to sleep

Take heed my son
The darkness will come

Black holes will bend the proudest ones
And change up your symmetry
Just as the night swallows the sun
I know you'll come for me

Take heed my son
The darkness will come

Take heed my son
The darkness will come

Rest now, my child, the day is done
The dark comes for everything
Inside the heart of everyone
There lives infinity
