

Wake

SYML

In the wake of an accidental love
In the violence I will still my lungs
And live in the moments when I can't breathe
You silent my storm and tame my seas

Sweet obsession left me with no choice
You're an anthem I will lose my voice
I tethered myself to a dance with you
And I felt no fear when I came to

Rest your weary head, she's a longtime coming
Steady now, steady my heart when the lights go down
Steady my heart when the lights go down

With a shot I fall and I spill my love
I was naked arms around the sun
Should've held out for a stronger frame
Covered in red but I have no shame, no shame, no shame

Rest your weary head, she's a longtime coming
Steady now, steady my heart when the lights go down
Steady my heart when the lights go down

You couldn't know what you meant for me
Buried in love I will find some sleep

Rest your weary head, she's a longtime coming
Steady now, steady my heart when the lights go down
Rest your weary head, she's a longtime coming
Desolate, bury my heart when the lights go down
Bury my heart when the lights go down
