

Ashes

Synestia

Endure these last fleeting moments
Reality begins to crumble
Our window into space and time shattered by an instant of dire realit y
For what awaits on the other side shall be the gorge of eternal cyphe r
Agony, brought on as the destroyed arrives

For what lies ahead
The remnants of all that was, aimlessly floating
A tellurian nebula
Entombed and ensnared by the boundlessness of time
A singularity at the core Encapsulating all
This galactic empire to be will not pass through the great filtered

All that is
Everything that was
And for what was to be
Carnage, downfall, eradication
Extinction

A meaningless existence
No suffering, no pain
Existential dread swallows any final thoughts
Deafening silence to follow
As barren nothingness remains
Future inhabitants of this dreadful shrine
Shall never realize our plights and triumphs

Eons spent in dedication to higher power
Struck down by the will of unstoppable obscurity

Any perceived power
Crushed in the wake of the abyss
Crushed

All that is
Everything that was
And for what was to be
Carnage, downfall, eradication
Extinction
Ashes will fall as we succumb to the abyss
Power shall reign true

All that is
Everything that was
And for what was to be
Extinction
