Don't leave me alone

I must have loved you too much to forget you

I'm still waiting for you
Our time must have stopped
I feel like you're by my side

Don't leave, don't leave me
Just hurting my heart
Don't leave, don't make me cry
Please come back to me

Until now it's only been once in my life that Someone has cherished me like crazy, it was you
In the fragments of breakup, my dead love is pitiful
It's hurtful, this night is lonely again
Baby don't know why
Like flower petals that fell to the ground, your body
Is also distant My reflection in the mirror is like
A crazy woman. My body trembles in anxiety
Tears flow in deep sadness

If the falling rain conceals my tears
Will our memories be concealed too?
If I erase your name that I miss
Will your face be erased too?

Don't leave, don't leave me
Just hurting my heart
Don't leave, don't make me cry
Please come back to me

My heart that you wore on your sleeve
Even if you rip it, throw it or hide it, as it was burnt
It remains like perfume
It's visible like a painting, engraved like a tattoo
Remember throwing me away don't wanna cry
The days when you were my world torture me
The memories of you being my law pierce me
I can't cut the tie of love
I can't let you go like this

Even if I shout, even if I call you shouting
Where are you now?
Don't leave, don't make me cry
Please come back to me

The person that hurts me so bad
In the fragments of breakup
My dead love is pitiful, hurtful and lonely again
Like flower petals that fell to the ground
Your body is also distant
My heart that you wore on your sleeve
Stays like perfume, like a painting
In the fragments of breakup, my dead love is pitiful
It's hurtful, this night is lonely again
