The moon shone down on a vast blue green sea
Who are you waiting for?
Even if I ask you just quietly
Look up at a star in the sky

If I want you
You'll hold my warmly but
Your heart's not in it

No matter how much I wished
I couldn't be the one closest to you
No matter what I thought I can't reach you
And just vanished in the sky

After collecting so many pretty shells
I listened to the sound of the sea
You held them without saying a word,
I wonder if you heard her heart beat

If you're lonely,
Then until your loneliness falls away
I will be close to your side

No matter how much I wish I'm me
And I can't change that but
I wish you could just love me
As I'm here before you

Hey, Just once is fine,
Let me hear you say you only want me
Don't let me sink and drown without swimming

No matter how close to your side I am
You still looked far off
If I loved you this much
Soon I'll be your bubble

Please, Your eyes and fingers

And voice and body, your everything
I want to fall asleep wrapped up in it
