

Dance, Dance, Dance

T-Bone Burnett

Off the coast of argentina where no man has ever travelled is a dark uncharted island where exists a tribe of women and they're all beautiful and voluptuous hollywood starlets and they wear revealing uniforms and live inside a temple where they have a fiery altar and perform sacrifices to their blonde seductive idol and they pray for men for without them they will vanish and they dance dance dance but here's this one other problem on an otherwise peaceful island it's a horrifying monster who doesn't have a face that the girl cooked up in wardrobe and keeps them in constant terror he appears to need a virgin to appease him then one day in the hidden cove a navy boat drops anchor filled with united states marines and they invade the island and shoot the awful creature and they all live happily after to the bitter end
