

Tears

T.O.K.

Tears, tears falling down your window pane Tears, tears for all the time he Caused you pain
Tears, tears learn to live and love again now t hat your Stronger you need him no longer

The first day you meet him he was a perfect gentlemen nobody kn ew what he Had in store for you, as the seasons change he changes and you knew that it Was over the first time he lay hands on you

It's been so long he's hurt you girl, and I know you've been cr ying your eyes
Out baby, put your hand in mine, let me dry your tears
