To get back to you
Back to you

I was nothing
Before you held me
Through you, I slowly realized
That I'm a pretty decent guy

But I didn't know this
That all the break up songs
Would be such painful words

You were the dream I dreamed
The breath I breathed
The world I saw, listened, felt and believed in has disappeared
What I can do to get back to you

I'll go back before it's too late
So will you open up a little for me?
Nights without you are too long
I hate promises that aren't really promises
Wake me up with your warm lips, just like always

I'll toss and turn
In between longing and misery
Because I don't belong anywhere

You were the dream I dreamed
The breath I breathed
The world I saw, listened, felt and believed in has disappeared
What I can do to get back to you

All the memories get far away
Contrary to what I want
I hope you're still standing there

Girl I just miss you yea-yeah
Your embrace that I lived in yea-yeah
The world I saw, listened, felt and believed in has disappeared
What I can do to get back to you
To get back to you
Back to you
