

Change

Taj Jackson

Ooh, Ooh
Yeah

I can away my tears
I can walk outside with no fear of the rain
Even if nobody's here
I can pretend everybody's watching
And my life is the same

You can let go of my hand
I can walk on my own
Now I'm strong enough
And I'm wise enough
To know what I'm feeling
When you couldn't understand
You never left me alone
And all is better now forever now
Every wound is healing

Changing
The stars have realigned and I'm
Changing
The words and how they rhyme
Realizing who lost me
And knowing right where they should be
Keep by my side
If I'm wrong or right
He'll love me while (my life is changing)

You will never know my pain
I replaced it with a smile that's on my face
(You broke her heart) I forgot her name (I forgot her name)
Cause I'm the way I used to be Nothing about me is the same

You can let go of my hand
I can walk on my own
Now I'm strong enough
And I wise enough
Ao know what I'm feeling
When you couldn't understand
And all is better now forever now
Every wound is healing

Changing
The stars have realigned and I'm
Changing
The words and how they rhyme
Realizing who lost me
And knowing right where they should be
Keep by my side

Things that used to get me down
I don't worry about them now

I threw it all away
It was time to make a change
Don't want to be trap inside of yesterday
No way, cause of your love I'm ready to change
Oh, I'm ready to change
Oh yeah, I'm changing

[x2:]
Changing
Changing
The words and how they rhyme
Keep by my side
