

Why I Feel This Way

Take 6

When I feel a summer breeze
And I hear it as it whispers through the trees
Well, it causes my heart to fly
Flying like an eagle through the sky
And I you're why i feel this way

Just hold a new born child
If the thought of your love
Oh, this miracle holiday
I am overwhlemed with your display
And I know your love is why I feel this way

Beauty in this world, often hard to see
When I let this love into my heart
With a new point of view, I can start the way things are meant to be

With your love and by your will
I am forever born in my heart
And when snow falls from the sky
Crystal images of love go by
And I know your love is why I feel this way
And I know your love is why I feel this way

I will let this love into my heart
By your love, I can see the way things were meant to be love and by your will

I am forever born in my heart
And when snow falls from the sky
Crystal images of love go by
And I know your love is why I feel this way
And I know your love is why I feel this way

Thank you, Father
