

Running in the Wrong Direction

Take Cover

I've been running in the wrong direction
All night and i haven't found a clue.
Trying to be honest with myself,
So I can be honest with you.

Say "You beat yourself up, you gotta let it go".
You know it's one thing I do best,
If I'm honest with myself.

You were the only light I saw,
Showing me the way.
Leading me through darkness.
Follow the sound of your voice,
Follow the sound of your voice,

You were the only light I saw,
Showing me the way.
When I'm spiraling out of control,
Follow the sound of your voice,
When I'm running in the wrong direction.

I've been waking in the early morning sunlight,
Trying to make up for lost time.
Taking the back roads, finding shortcuts,
But I fall further behind.
You beat yourself up, you gotta let it go.
I gotta let it go,
If i ever want to make it home.

You were the only light I saw,
Showing me the way.
Leading me through darkness.
Follow the sound of your voice,
Follow the sound of your voice,

You were the only light I saw,
Showing me the way.
When I'm spiraling out of control,
Follow the sound of your voice,
When I'm running in the wrong direction.

I know you can save me if I only let you in.
Be my guiding light to follow,
Save me. save me.

I wanna save you,
But you never let me in.
I wanna save you,
But you never let me.

You were the only light I saw,
Showing me the way.
Leading me through darkness.
Follow the sound of your voice,
Follow the sound of your voice,

You were the only light I saw,

Showing me the way.
When I'm dying to make it back home,
When I'm running in the wrong direction.
