

Spin

Take That

Never give up hope
You know it does happen to people when you least expect it

Hard day, long road
A lot of time tryna make it gold
So far from home
I can't remember where I left my soul
If I'm here and you're there
I got a picture of your everywhere
In my heart, in my mind
And it'll be until the end of my time

Face down like a domino
In a place I will never know
Sometimes yeah you need to go
Yeah you need to go
Where the river runs home

Countin' up the days
And the ways I'm gonna make it happen
I feel the walls are tumbling
I see the doors are opening
It's been a long time
But I know that you've been waiting for me
And the world will always spin
'Cause love will always win

Love will always, love will always
Love will always win

I live up in my dreams
Gotta rule, gotta play the scene
Your face on my screen
And I remember how it feels to be
You're mine, our lives
I couldn't get better if I tried
I'll run, jump heights
Just to make it back by your side

Grey sky and I feel the cold
Another pain in another club
Sometimes yeah you need to go
Yeah you need to go
Where the river runs home

Countin' up the days
And the ways I'm gonna make it happen
I feel the walls are tumbling
I see the doors are opening
It's been a long time
But I know that you've been waiting for me
And the world will always spin
'Cause love will always win

Love will always, love will always
Love will always win
Love will always, love will always

Love will always win

Face down like a domino
In a place I will never know
Sometimes yeah you need to go
Yeah you need to go
Where the river runs home

Countin' up the days
And the ways I'm gonna make it happen
I feel the walls are tumbling
I see the doors are opening
It's been a long time
But I know that you've been waiting for me
And the world will always spin
'Cause love will always win

Love will always, love will always
Love will always win
Love will always, love will always
Love will always win

Love will always, love will always
Love will always win
Love will always, love will always
Love will always win