

As You Die

Takida

Be strong, good son, another day will rise, as you die

The formation of gangs is a sure sign of spring
A new season approaches, please sign up for the king
Leave home and bleed some, prepare for the longest of long runs
Always hate

Be strong, hold on, another day will rise
Be strong, love's gone, heart's cold as ice

Prove yourself to the father, he will praise you and mind
Alarming future is traced, the contract is already signed

So wrong, love's gone, your heart is cold as ice

Will innocent blood run free?
Maybe in another time
