

Don't Wait Up

Takida

Everybody call your alibi

I've been living on the sun
I've been walking on fire
I've been dreaming on a different plain

I've been cutting you diamonds
I've been digging up flowers
I've been playing all the wicked games

Hold back your tears
Because it won't be long
You're my only one

I won't be saying I'm sorry
With a drink in my hand, fire in my eyes
Nothing beats forever
So tonight my heart's a suicide

Don't wait up
I'll be looking for love, I'll be looking for love
Don't wait up
It's a Saturday night, Saturday night
Don't wait up
I'll be living it up till the morning comes
Don't wait up
I'll be looking for love

I've been biting my tongue
You've been wrecking my style
And I know it's just the price I pay

I've been keeping you out
You've been slipping on ice
I've been fucking with your memories

Accept your fears
And it will be gone
I'm your only one

I will give you all night
Don't talk about life, let's go
Nothing lasts forever
Everybody call your alibi

Don't wait up
I'll be looking for love, I'll be looking for love
Don't wait up
It's a Saturday night, Saturday night
Don't wait up
I'll be living it up till the morning comes
Don't wait up
I'll be looking for love

Everybody call your alibi
So tonight my heart's a suicide

Don't wait up
I'll be looking for love, I'll be looking for love
Don't wait up
It's a Saturday night, Saturday night
Don't wait up
I'll be living it up, I'll be living it up
Don't wait up

Don't wait up

Don't wait up
It's a Saturday night, Saturday night
Don't wait up
I'll be living it up till the morning comes
Don't wait up
