

Eva

Takida

No one heard you calling
No one saw you falling
How can everyone in your world be so blind?
(How can you be so blind?)
Your mom and dad are mourning
Now that you're gone they're hurting
But still no one felt the urge
And no one helped you survive

Why didn't you save your daughter's life?

Eva lost her love on the line
Eva lost her love on the line
No one held her hand in the fire
Eva lost her love on the line

Her body's now six feet under
Her soul lies up here and higher
Surely someone after this time
Could have seen the signs
(Surely saw the signs)
She kept on reaching for the Same old blades and razors
She was always longing
Always longing for the night
You have your night now, love

Eva lost her love on the line
Eva lost her love on the line
No one held her hand in the fire
Eva lost her love on the line
(She'll always be falling)
Eva lost her love on the line
(She'll always)
Eva lost her love on the line
(Be falling)
No one held her hand in the fire
(She'll always)
Eva lost her love on the line

No one ever heard you calling
No one ever saw you falling
How can all those people be so blind?
(She'll always be falling)

Eva lost her love on the line
(No one ever heard you calling)
Eva lost her love on the line
(No one ever saw you falling)
No one held her hand in the fire
(How can all those people be so blind?)
Eva lost her love on the line
(How can you be so blind?)

Eva lost her love on the line
(She'll always)
Eva lost her love on the line

(Be falling)
No one held her hand in the fire
(She'll always)
Eva lost her love on the line
(She'll always be falling)
