

The Things We Owe

Takida

The scars reveal the hidden place deep down in you
Like a shadow from the past and nothing is true
A reflection from a dejected face, It comes to Memories will last, I am crying for you

I'll give my own time
I'll give my whole life
I'll give my only light
Just to heal you
The things that we owe

Haven appears with deceitful light and angst follow soon
She's not welcome here no more, you have to walk on through
Bad dreams haunting the frozen nights, all I can do
Longing for a home