

Just Us Two

Taking Back Sunday

The air was thick
And our heads were too
You were ten-foot tall
And bulletproof
And I didn't care
But then neither did you
What came next
We didn't have a clue

I remember the way that it felt
I remember the way that it felt
Watched the sun go down
Sitting on your roof
And the air was thick
Yeah our heads were too
Watched the sun come up
Sitting on your roof
Yeah the air was thick
It was just us two

Sixteen times and I
Put it past you
All that said
Still scared to ask
If I didn't care
But that wasn't the truth
What comes next
Didn't have a clue

I remember the way that it felt
Remember the way that it felt
Watched the sun go down
Sitting on your roof
And the air was thick
Yeah our heads were too

These are the days
Always remember
These are the days
Always forever
These are the days
Always remember
These are the days
These are the days

Watched the sun go down
Sitting on your roof
And the air was thick
Yeah our heads were too

These are the days
Always remember
These are the days
Always forever
These are the days
Always remember
These are the days

These are the days

These are the days (Watched the sun go down)

Always remember

These are the days (Sitting on your roof)

Always forever

These are the days (And the air was thick)

Always remember

These are the days (Yeah our heads were too)

These are the days
