The way we are, the way we are
The way we are, the way we are

The words you never said
Could remain away from you
You left them to the tombs
With everything I’ve heard from you

Many things you had to lose
To lose
Many words you had to leave
To leave

The way we are, the way we are
The way we are, the way we are

If I could hold you
To get you on your feet
It works inside of you
And every single hour too

Many things you had to lose
It lose

The way we are, the way we are
The way we are, the way we are
